OPEN DOOR FOR CHINESE EMPIRE IS PROPOSED

Resolution For World Court Is Offered By United States Delegation

NO MORE CONCESSIONS

Britain and Italy Accept Proposal As a Whole and Japan Accepts in Principle

Washington, Jan. 18.—Another open door declaration designed to give China more effectual protection against the grabbing of spheres of influence and concessions that the old open door declarations, and apparently making possible review of some violations of the open door in the past, has been offered by the American delegation in the Far East ern Committee it was officially stated last night.

The American delegation regards the resolution, which was submitted by Mr. Hughes, as of large importance, and is very hopeful that it will be adopted, although predictions were made last night that there will be prolonged discussion. The British and Italians have accepted, and the Japanese have accepted "in principle." Some questions have been raised by M. Albert Sarraut, of the French delegation as to the effect on existing concessions, and debate on the resolution is to be continued today.

The American resolution declares that none of the powers in this Conference shall acquire rights or concessions in China to the exclusion of other powers of their nationals. It then proposes to set up a sort of international board of review, to investigate and announce the facts in any case in which it may be alleged that rights or concessions given a power invade the rights of the nationals of other powers under the open-door principle.

This means that after stating in the most explicit terms at the command of the American delegation what the open door in China really is the American proposal is that there be a tribunal which would apply what amounts to a law that the powers would impose upon themselves Instead of formal protests at long distance, as in the past, when there have been allegations of violations, a body composed of representatives of the signing powers would investigate at first hand and make its report to the world.

Of course, the report would not be binding upon all the nations. A nation that has obtained a concession to the exclusion of other nations might stand on its bargain and refuse to be moved by the report of the commission. That is recognized by the American delegates who say that no agreement can be reached here that would infringe upon the sovereignty of any nation. But Mr. Hughes and the other American delegates believe that with the light turned on the chances are strong that no nation would insist upon holding a concession that violated the rights of others.

The possibility that concessions obtained in the past, in violation of the frequently reiterated pledges to main tain the open door, may be reviewed if the American resolution is adopted arises from a provision that if any existing concession appears to be inconsistent with another concession or with the policy of the open door as stated, the investigating body shall take it under consideration. It is pointed out that China might easily find ways to create tes cases under this section.

The powers in this Conference other than China are parties to the open door agreement, under the plan of the American delegation, and in a separate section China gives its promise to be guided by the principles stated in making any concessions. For the purpose of getting the reviewing body under way the special conference of representatives of the powers that is to meet in China to give further consideration to the customs question is to be directed to work out a detailed plan of organization.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, January 18.—In no instance will the Postoffice Department stand for the appointment of any postmasters in the South who are not Republicans unless the situation in such states should make it impossible to find "deserving" Republicans who can fill the bill. This policy on the part of the Republican administration was made plain today when Representative Linthicum, Dem ocrat, of Maryland, called upon First Assistant Postmaster General Work in behalf of the reappointment of Col. Sherlock Swann, for postmaster at Baltimore. The Maryland member was informed that it had already been decided to appoint a Republican successor to Col. Swann, and despite the qualifications of Democrats in Southern States Civil Service or no Civil Service, Republicans would be chosen to fill all offces in which the terms of Democratic incumbents have expired.

The same thing will be true of the Alexandria postoffice. While the Civil Service Commission has not as yet certified the three highest names of the candidates who took the examination on December 20 last, it can be put down as a certainty that a Republican will be the successor of Dr. William Smith, the Democratic incumbent.

According to an announcement made today by the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, 22 states have already accepted the Maternity Act passed by Congress recently. Miss Abbott, Chief of the Children's Bureau, in charge of the administration of the act says that in practically all the other states responsible officials have indicated their interest in the act and in most cases the probability of its acceptance The Governor of Virginia has accepted the act, and it is expected that the present session of the legislature will ratify it. Virginia, when she acts, will be eligible to receive at least $10,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, and $5,000 in succeeding years provided their plans for the use of the same are approved by the Federal Board of Maternity and Infant Hygiene.

So far as an investigation on the part of the Gazette correspondent can demonstrate, former President Woodrow Wilson is taking no hand whatever in the forthcoming contest in the Senate over the ratification of the four-Power Pacific treaty Despite the assertions in some of the Republican newspapers to make it appear that the former President has injected himself into this fight, it can be stated on the very highest authority that Mr. Wilson has not indicated to anyone of his close friends in the Senate on the Democratic side that he will take any sides in the matter. These friends of Mr. Wilson include Senators Glass and Swanson, of Virginia, Pomerene, of Ohio Harrison, of Mississinni, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska. The position of Mr. Wilson with respect to this treaty is the same that he has maintained all along. He has held himself aloof from any entrance into Senatorial tangles, and he does not propose at this time to inject his influence ino any contest over such treaties that may result through the meeting of the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments and Pacific and Far Eastern Questions. He feels that the people of the country will call upon the party in power to give an account of its stewardship for the manner in which it has run governmental affairs and that the result will be made plain at the forth coming Congressional and Senatorial elections to be held in November. In the meantime, he will content himself with silence.

Examine Tax Returns

Examiner Milburn Has Large Number of Persons Before Him Today

J. Parker Milburn, examiner of records for the sixteenth judicial circuit, today has been busy in this city investigating the tax returns of persons here. From the time Mr. Milburn put in his appearance in the courtroom it was crowded and there was a long line of persons whose returns for 1918, 1919 and 1920 are being examined.

It is set forth in the letter sent out by Mr. Milburn that "The Federal Government has furnished to the Commonwealth of Virginia a list showing the names of the individuals residing in this State who filed federal income returns during the calendar year 1921, reporting incomes earned during the calendar year 1920. A list of all such persons filing federal returns from my circuit has been furnished me by the State Tax Board of Virginia. Owing to the fact that the laws as to income returns in the case of the Federal Government are somewhat different from those in the case of the State Government, the Federal Government allowing certain exemptions and deductions not allowed by the State Government, I am calling this to your attention in order that you may make a proper return to the State."

BRYAN TO RUN FOR SENATE FROM FLORIDA

Former Secretary of State to Oppose Senator Trammel This Fall

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

Transferred Residence to Southern State From Nebraska Several Years Ago.

Washington, Jan. 18.—William Jennings Bryan, three times the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, and Secretary of State during the first Wilson administration, will be a candidate for the United States Senate from Florida.

Information to this effect has just been received in Washington from those personal and political friends in the State of Mr. Bryan's adoption to whom he has confided his purposes and his political ambitions.

It was asserted positively here yesterday that Mr. Bryan will enter the Florida Democratic primary in August against United States Senator Trammel and there is the utmost confidence on the part of the Bryan supporters in the State that he will win.

Already, it is stated, there is a well-organized movement in Florida back of Mr. Bryan, a movement participated in by some of the leading Democrats of Jacksonville and North Florida as well as by party leaders in the far southern end of the State.

Even so, Mr. Bryan will rely primarily upon his personal campaign and not upon any friendly organization in his behalf or upon such organized opposition to Mr. Trammel as already exists in the State. He expects to take the stump, probably late in the spring, and to go into every county from Tallahassee to Miami.

He will duplicate in the matter of energetic campaigning the performance of Sidney J. Catts, who captured the Governorship some years ago by a canvass which extended virtually to every crossroad in the State and which overcame the united organization opposition of the party.

Several years ago Mr. Bryan formally transferred his citizenship from Nebraska to Florida. Earlier than that he had taken up a winter residence in Miami. Both he and Mrs. Bryan became so attached to Florida as a delightful place to live that they decided to sell their home at Fairview, near Lincoln (Neb.), and to remove permanently to Florida.

It was doubted at the time however, whether for purely political reasons the Commoner would not keep his citizenship in Nebraska where he still publishes his magazine and where he still has a powerful following. While this was being debated among the friends of the former Secretary of State, he withdrew entirely from Nebraska and announced his intention of becoming a voter in Florida.

There was a suspicion entertained on the part of many Democratic politicians in Florida that Mr. Bryan, in becoming a citizen of the State had more in mind than the calm of Florida climate and that 'soon or later he would ask for a Senatorial nomination. It was even believed in some quarters, that Mr. Bryan might enter the contest for the Senate then being waged by Senator Fletcher and Mr. Catts.

However, the new Floridian felt that it would be premature for him to ask political favor at the hands of a State in which he had lived for so short a time. He is said to have told friends somewhat later that this was his feeling, aside from the fact that Mr. Bryan had then and still has high regard for Senator Fletcher. And it is morally certain that if Bryan had gone into the fight two years ago he would have drawn more heavily from the Fletcher forces than from the Catts camp, with the result that Catts probably would have been elected.

There is said to be a very considerable group of Florida Democratic leaders who are oposed to the re-election of Senator Trammel and who would welcome a candidate with whom they had a fair chance to defeat the incumbent.

IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY

SENATE

Reorganization plans for the government departments will be reported by the Joint Congressional committee within a week, it was announced by Senator Smoot.

Concluding his speech of Monday in defense of the Federal Reserve Banking system Senator Glass scored its critics and said they should talk sense to bankers rather than nonsense to farmers, spreading the mistaken belief that the system is a failure. Charges against the Federal Reserve board were reiterated by Senator Heflin.

Senator Lodge called a meeting of the Republicans of the Senate for Wednesday to discuss the Allied debt refunding program.

The special committee investigating charges of cruelty to American soldiers in France was told by George A. Ramford of Washington and John R. Flynn of Cambridge, Mass., that they had heard nothing substantiating witnesses previously testifying that soldiers were found buried with ropes around their necks.

By a vote of 63 to 9 the Senate passed a bill authorizing the president to appoint a farmer on the Federal reserve board, the action signalizing a victory for the Agricultural bloc in the Senate.

Postmaster nominations included William A. Wine, Quicksburg, Va.; George N. Kirk, St. Charles, Va.; Charles A. McKinney, Cape Charles, Va., and Ernest de Bordenave, Mount Jackson, Va.

Eugene A. Gilmore of Wisconsin was confirmed for vice governor of the Philippines; Emil de Toro to be Chief Justice in Porto Rico and John P. Johnson to be commissioner of Immigration at Boston.

An amendment was adopted limiting to $250,000 the amount to be spent on any Federal reserve bank not already contracted.

THE HOUSE

Opponents of the air mail service, provision for which was eliminated from the postoffice appropriation bill, were scored by Representative Griffith of the House Appropriations committee as belonging to the stone age.

Chairman Focht called a meeting of the District committee for Friday to consider the Fitzgerald bill for compulsory insurance in the District. Creation of a traffic court in the District was opposed at a meeting of the District sub-committee, by Representative Gilbert.

Communications

In the name of the Lady Board of Managers of the Alexandria Hospital.
By Advice of the President of Board of Trustees.

The Board of Managers has been, and is, very much worried and perplexed by the continual criticisms and censure with regard to the fee charged for the use of the Hospital ambulance. Now, it must be from lack of knowledge, or determined objection to there being any charge.

To go back to the raising of the ambulance fund. The people of Alexandria should remember the amount to purchase the ambulance was raised by public subscription, most of the citizens giving generously, generally in small sums,—only a very few in amounts of $50 or $100. We had a wonderful 10-cents tag day,—hard work by the Board. Then some good friends gave entertainments for the benefit of the ambulance, and so by the help of many the necessary sum was raised.

Now the careful housing and care to keep the ambulance in perfect sanitary condition, where a night watch would always be on hand and a driver ever ready to meet calls for the sick. This was a serious question to be met, but was met by our friends of the Wheatley establishment, through Mr. Cunningham. This firm desired to give their services to help meet the need of the Hospital having in their power to give secure, carefulwatch, with fine housing space, and a driver to answer every call, and this service their annual donation to the Hospital work. This offer was thankfully accepted by the Board.

After careful consideration the new fees have been fixed as follows: Alexandria, $3:00; Del Ray, $4:00; Mt. Vernon and Woodlawn, $8.00, as roads are bad at times.

Now these charges include expenses of driver, housing, cleaning, gasoline and repair, and the charge would not meet the real expense.

Now, would the Board of Managers have the just right to use this gift to the Hospital in helping Alexandria people who are able to pay the fee, any more than to use contributions given for special hospital work. No charge is made for the ambulance when it is certainly assured the parties are not financially able to pay

The ambulance is not expected to be called for by any party who is able to reach the hospital by any other means. The ambulance service is for the very sick or seriously disabled, and never in such cases will the ambulance fail to meet calls.

Mrs. L. Wilber Reid,
President.

CONFERENCE OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS A BIG SUCCESS

Attended By 156 Delegates From City Sunday Schools

OFFICERS ARE NAMED

Monday Day of Conference Marked Ninety-Sixth Anniversary of Organization of Asociation

One of the most successful conferences of the Alexandria Sunday School Association was held in the Sunday School rooms of M. E. Church South on Monday evening from 7 until 10 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by Superintendent J. Frank Myers, and after prayer by Mr. J. H. Trimyer, the Secretary of the Association, Mr. John W. Herndon took charge, in the absence of the President.

The Secretary made a brief report and thanked the Association for their kindness and forbearances during the fourteen years he acted as Secretary, stating that he had requested the nominating committee to select another man for the office.

The nominating committee submitted the following officers for the ensuing year who were unanimously elected: Edward L. Brown of Grace Church, President; A. F. Elmore, of Second Presbyterian Church, vice president; A. S. Mankin, of First Baptist, secretary; Mrs. James A. Hulfish, of Second Baptist; Superintendent of Primary Department; Miss Helen N. Cummings of Christ Church; Superintendent of Secondary Department; Nevell S. Greenaway, of M. E. Church South, Superintendent of Bible Class Department; John W. Herndon, of Christ Church, Superintendent of Teacher Training Department; and Mrs. William Campbell, of Second Presbyterian Church, Superintendent of the Home Departmnt.

Group conferences were held in the Primary Sec ondary, Bible Class and Home Departments with Miss Elizabeth Griffith, Miss H .N. Cummings, Mr. N. S. Geenaway and Mrs. William Campbell, respectively, as chairmen.

Mr. Diggs conducted a conference with the pastors, superintendents and officers. At the conclusion of these conferences brief reports were made by the various chairmen to the fall conference.

The address of the evening was made by Mr. Diggs, General Secretary of the Virginia State Association his subject being the Bible. He said that the one aim of the Sunday School teacher should be to train the scholars to know and to love the Bible; to know was not sufficient, he must love it. He presented the matter so simply, his anecdotes were touching, his words were comforting and encouraging to teachers.

The banner presented to the Association by the Secretary for the best percentage of attendance was awarded to M. E. Church South with Christ Church a close second for the honor.

In point of attendance this is the largest held by the association as follows: M. E. South, 63; Christ, 24; Second Presbyterian 21; St. Paul's, 13; First Baptist, 11; Payne Street Mission 9; Grace, 8; Trinity, 7; total, 156.

An interesting fact in connection with this conference is that it was held in the 96th anniversary of the organization of the Alexandria Sunday School Association, which was formed January 15, 1825, the minutes of which were exhibited. This probably is one of the oldest, if not the oldest associations in this country, however it has not been in continuous existence during all of these years.

After all business before the conference had been transacted light refreshments were served by a committee composd of rerpresentatives from each school present, under a committee in charge of Mrs. J. Frank Myers. Many of those in attendance spoke of this as one of the best and most enojvable meetings of the Association ever held.

The Mystery Man

Many Washington People Interview Man at Hospital

The Alexandria Hospital has a mystery man on their hands. He is about 30 years old, suffering from loss of memory. Since he came to the hospital Monday a large number of persons have called at the hospital in an effort to identify him, but thus far he has not been identified and he is as much a mystery today as the day he arrived.

The officials at the hospital are very anxious that the man be identified.

He does not know his name or where he hails from. All he remembers is that he found himself in Alexandria Tuesday afternoon and was unable totell anything further about himself. He converses intelligently and talks on any subject, but cannot tll his name or anything regarding his past.

CITY BAR ASSOCIATION

The Gazette commends the organization of a Bar Association for Alexandria. It should have been formed long ago. It means the adoption of a code of ethics for members of the bar, and a firm and unyielding pressure upon every practising attorney in the city to conform to that code, whether a member or not.

We have refrained from more than a brief notice of the unpleasant notoriety into which our city has been recently thrust, but our news columns already indicate that a grave injustice has been done to individuals as well as the city. We shall take the matter up more at length, later, and in the meantime rely upon the honorable body of distinguished lawyers who have resolved themselves into a Bar Association, to delve into the matter fully and make public the results of their investigation. The Gazette has but one desire, to see the guilty punished and the innocent exonerated. As to the methods used in accomplishing the former, we will reserve our conclusions for a later expression.

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM

The Gazette commends the views of Mr. Leadbeater, of the School Board, as given to our reporter last Monday. Especially as he expresses them in regard to the choice of men for our new city council. As he well says, they must be fearless men and free from political influences. We are also in accord with his statement as to criticism. He says, "There should be less criticism, but if there must be some, let it be constructive and not destructive, in its nature." Critics, like the poor, we will always have with us. They are vital and necessary in a democratic government. But merely destructive criticism is just plain "knocking." Unless it is given with a reason and a suggestion as to remedy, it is without value. Constructive criticism, however, which is that with a remedy, is always helpful. It is in the attrition of opinion that results are obtained. Many men, many minds, runs the proverb. The general average of opinion in a multitude is more apt to be right than that of any individual, however brilliant. On a smaller scale, that is at the root of the jury system of the English-speaking peoples; and was one of the demands of the great Magna Charta.

But, as Mr. Leadbeater says, let criticism be constructive.

GREAT WHITE WAY IS PUT OVER

One of the objects for which the Gazette has striven and which has been given publicity in its editorial and news columns for a year past, is a Great White Way on King Street. At a meeting yesterday, of the merchants and representatives of the public utility corporations operating in Alexandria, an agreement was arrived at that means the speedy construction of this most desirable object. The cost of the project, as estimated by experts, will be approximately twelve thousand dollars. The Alexandria County Lighting Company has generously offered to contribute sixty per cent of this sum, leaving the citizens only forty per cent, or about $4,800, which will make the cost to the owners of propefty along King Street, from Fairfax to Patrick, not to exceed $1.50 per front foot. The unsightly wooden poles with their present tangle of wires, sixty-four in number, will be replaced by forty-two metal poles, each thirty-four feet in height, of approved construction and ornamental design. There will be four corner lights at each street intersection, all of which will be lighted till midnight, and two burning all night. These, in addition to three lights on each side of a block directly opposite each other.

The merchants are heartily in favor of the project and will cooperate by the beautifying and enlargement of their store fronts. The public utilities represented at the meeting committed themselves to the fullest endorsement of the plan and to the carrying out of the details on their part.

The Gazette takes the occasion to compliment President Smoot and Business Manager Evans, of theChamber of Commerce; Manager Feldtkeller, of the Electric Light Company; the representatives of the other public utility corporations, and the live wires of the Retail Merchants Bureau, as well as all the others of our public-spirited citizens who have labored to make this vision of the years a living actuality.

Hereafter every night will be Saturday night in our progressive city, and the streets will be thronged by a busy, bustling multitude that will indeed be the best evidence of cheer and prosperity.

An automobile trip to Alexandria's Great White Way will be among the attractions to visitors far and wide. This will inevitably breed other enterprises germane to pleasure-seekers, such as one or more cafes that will cater to the wants of the inner man, amusements of various sorts, and perhaps a Luna Park nearby with its rollicking gayety. As a breathing-spot for Washington o' summer nights, it could be made unrivalled. This would mean more money invested here and more people with it. And this is what Alexandria wants and will have, if the present activity is kept up by her enterprising citizens.

The Gazette carries at its daily masthead, the list of things needed for Greater Alexandria. The Great White Way is the first of accomplishment. Now for a pull. ALL TOGETHER, for the next!

Exhibit of Children's Sewing Classes at Chamber of Commerce Tomorrow

The dressmaking class of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight at the Chamber of Commerce. All those who have garments which are finished and ready for the exhibit are requested to bring them at this time.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, there will be opened for exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce the work of the Children's Sewing Classes which have been conducted since last September. The public is most cordially invited to call and inspect this work Saturday afternoon as this will be a splendid opportunity of seeing just what type of instruction in sewing it is desired to have added to our school curriculum. Parents of the children who have been enrolled in the school during the first term are especially invited to be present this Saturday as the girls will act as hostesses to their mothers at this time, and a special treat is in store for them.

WHISKEY RAIDS

Two Men Had 60 Gallons in Automobile—Woman Had Still is Charge

Following a preliminary hearing in the police court at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a special session presided over by Acting Police Justice A. B. Nicol, two white men giving the names of Clifton C. Beahm and J. H. Parsons, were held for the action of the grand jury on a charge of violating the prohibition law. The men were captured in a high powered roadster at the north end of Hunting Creek Bridge yesterday afternoon and in the machine the police claim they found ten cans containing between sixty and sixty-five gallons of corn liquor.

The arrest was made by Policemen Magner and Durrer. The police say that the whisky probably came from beyond Fredericksburg.

The men are supposed to have been enroute to Washington. When the men were arraigned they entered pleas of guilty and were held for the action of the grand jury and their bond was fixed at $1,000 each.

Mrs. Joseph Videll also was arraigned at the special session of the court yesterday afternoon for an alleged violation of the prohibition law and she was held for the action of the grand jury. The police offered as evidence a copper arrangment looking like a wash boiler with a capacity of twenty gallons and announced that they also captured a quantity of mash.

Through Attorney William P. Woolls she waived a hearing and was held for the action of the grand jury and furnished a bail bond in the sum of $500. The raid was conducted by Sergt. Wilkinson, Sergt. Campbell and Policemen Durrer and Magner.

Communications

There has been some very good and sound talk regarding a Greater Alexandria. I have read with great interest, all remarks on the subject and have not as yet read anything of a wholesale market for the Greater Alexandria which would be a great help for all the rural Districts for many miles around Alexandria.

My views on the subject are to space three sides of the present retail market space on Royal, Cameron and Fairfax Sts. Space the curb in widths to suit any modern vehicle and number same. And have this outfit for producers to back up their load of produce to wholesale.

Let the producers apply a space numbered to comply with his permit, which should be for a limited number of days in certain weeks or months in the year. Have an hour for open market so producers, not present at that hour, cannot claim possession of permits. Space and all spaces be free to all after the opening hour. All permits and applications for permits should be gratis as a duty of the market masters. Each space should collect when occupied, a 25c revenue for the town.

I suggest in behalf of making a wholesale market that a law be enacted to stop all producers or ruralists without license to huckster, which should at least be $10.00, except they have a written order from consumers for produce. No selling on the streets, or to merchants to be allowed. This clause in behalf of the market will force all ruralists and producers to market. Also force all merchants to market. No producer wants to stand on market space and have no buyers. No buyers want to go to market to buy if there is no produce to buy. (All in a nut-shell.) Properly handled, it has to work for a good wholesale market.

There are no guaranteed prices as it is. This plan would establish a wholesale and retail price for everything supply and demand predominating.

There is no satisfaction to merchants to buy if they can't sell. And if producers supply consumers, how can merchants patronize producers. No wonder the prices producers get from the merchants has such a wide variation. When we get a market, canning factories are bound to follow the good markets.

I also advocate a reasonable license, around $10.00, for all Huxters to sell produce in any town under the jurisdiction of Alexandria. This would give a number of idle men jobs, and a good revenue to the city, and also make buyers for the wholesale market. We do not need Ferry boats to bring stuff to our market. Once a good market, and we will produce the produce.

The retail market is O. K. All it wants is to force country and city together. The last and most important matter is already with four or five good roads to Alexandria is to make the road good from Fairfax court house to Alexandria via The Little River turnpike, so we can bring lots of stuff to market in better shape. Let us all get busy for this Greater and Better Alexandria.

Chairman U. S. Traffic Commission

A statement issued at the White House announces that the President has designated Thomas O. Culbertson, of Kansas, to be Vice Chairman of the Commission for the same period.

Mr. Marvin has been a member of the Commission since his appointment by President Harding in March, 1921, who designated him also as Vice-Chairman on May 5. Mr. Marvin succeeds to the chairmanship held until this time by Thomas Walker Page, of Virginia. Mr. Page will remain as a member of the Commission.

Mr. Culbertson has been a member of the Commission since its organization under the provisions of the Act of September 8, 1916. His first term expired in 1921 and he was reappointed, first by President Wilson and later by President Harding, for the term ending in 1932.

Both Mr. Marvin and Mr. Culbertson are members of the Republican party.

NATURE PROVIDES THE INGREDIENTS

Argo-Phosphate, the New Herbal Remedy Now Endorsed by Local People

If the digestive organs are not properly preforming the work which nature has assigned them, then nutrition, which is absolutely essential to the recovery of other diseased parts, will be lacking and there can be no permanent relief. When bodily nutrition is normal, the stomach digests the food, the blood absorbes and carries the nourishment to the different parts of the body, causing the various organs to preform their functions.

Nature has provided a remedy in the ingredients of Argo-Phosphate, the new herbal stomach remedy, which is now being introduced here. It is purely vegetable and its vitalizing, corrective and reconstructive qualities are so pronounced that beneficial results are noticed from the first day. That this is true, it is only necessary to listen to the statements made daily by local people who have given Argo-Phosphate a fair trial and have been benefited thereby.

O. D. Wins Again

The Old Dominion Boat Club easily defeated the Leonardtown A. C. last night at the Armory by the score of 38 to 11. At no time during the game were the locals in danger the first half ending 20 to 7 in their favor. The close guarding by the Boat Club guards and the ability of the forwards in locating the basket seemed to baffle the visitors. Beeton and Crilly did some good shooting and Hoy appeared with the locals and distinguished himself by his spectacular shooting. Line up and summary:

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Councilman Claude Fletcher Favors Entire Gazette List of Improvements

New School Building, He Says, Is Most Important—Little River Turnpike Also of Vital Importance

Councilman Claude W. Fletcher, of the Fletcher Motor Company, tells the Gazette reporter that he is of the same opinion regarding the proposd improvements as are most of the other citizens of the city. He thinks that all are important, and, further more, that the erection of an ample school building is of the most importance at the present time. He says that:—

"I am heartily in favor of each and every one of the improvements which are being held before the eyes of the public by the Gazette, but in the shape things are at present I think that, by all means, the new school building is the most needed. As all must be well aware by this time, the seating capacity of the school buildings at this time is so small that some of our little children are only able to attend school one-half of each day, and the others who are able to go all day are so crowded that they cannot do their class work and receive the attention they should from the teacher. The teacher gets the blame, of course; gets the blame when it is not her fault at all but the fault of us all.

"What we Alexandrians need is to awake to the possibilities of our city. We cannot forever drift as we are drifting and I think that the sooner we awake to the fact, the sooner we can have what we so much want.

"What we should do first is to build the school and there let our children learn without any disadvantage whatsoever. We owe this to our children, and as education is recognized as one of the greatest things under the sun, should we not give our children the best advantages possible to receive it.

"Greatness will come in direct proportion to the amount of education our people have. We must give the future citizens of Alexandria the basis for this greater city if it is to ever come into reality. The new school building would bring with it the desire for greater things. The new school building would be of such advertising value that many who are, at present, living in Washington and working here would build homes in this city where they could be close to their work and at the same time be conveniently situated as to a good school system. This would bring into the hands of our contractors more work, they could employ more men who, in turn, would spend their money in this city, thus creating more trade for our merchants and bettering in every way our city.

"The White Way from Fairfax street to Patrick street on King street is practically assured us and in a very short time I hope that the Gazette may omit this item from its list of proposed improvements and enter it as one already accomplished.

"Next to the school building in importance is the building of the Little River turnpike from this city to Fairfax Court House a distance of fourteen miles. The improvements of this piece of road will open to our trade vast sections of the most productive portion of the state. But the advantages of this have been stated before.

"With the new form of government which will go into effect next September, will come the chance of a lifetime to improve our city—that is if we go at it in the right way and start right by electing the right men for the positions of councilmen. The election of the right men must not end our part of the responsibility. We must stand behind them and see to it that things are done as they should be.

"So let's to it and build the school and follow that up with the road work and thus go on down the line doing one thing at a time and do that as it should be done—rightly."

Stella Tells Her Brownies About Hermit Crabs.

"WON'T you tell us some more about the under-the-ocean world?" Pimzie asked the Wishing Fairy one day when they were all heartily tired after ever so many games of lean frog and hide-and-go-seek far away, at the End-of-the-Earth. "I simply love to hear about it, for even though it is in a sense another world it somehow seems too strange and wonderful to be quite true."

"I suppose," Lorykins added thoughtfully, "that is the reason we enjoy hearing about it so much. It is like a make believe story. It is very easy to grow tired of the things one is used to, and heaven knows—at least I know—that I could never become used to those awful creatures that I ran into the day you changed us Brownies into four Shrimp and took us on our trip under the sea to visit your mermaid cousin. Oh, will I ever forget that dreadful Shark who frightened me out of my wits and"——

"And you haven't much to boast of," exclaimed Pimzie. His words were rude, but as long as he smiled when he said them Lorykins forgave him and continued:

"And that ghastly Hammerhead Fish who glared at me—with his big eyes! No, I'll never, never, never forget him!"

"Yes, Stella, it certainly was awful," said Pimzie; "but, just the same, tell us of some more undersea creatures. I just love to hear of horrors!"

"But they are not all 'horrors,' as you call them; for there are ever so many that are amusing and harmless. Do you know what a hermit is?"

"Yes," answered Kinkajou joyously, for he was glad that he could answer his beloved Fairy's question. "I know. A hermit is one who lives all by himself—doesn't like company, and all that sort of thing."

"Good!" exclaimed Stella. "Then you can imagine what a 'Hermit Crab' is."

"Of course," laughed the Brownie, "it must be some kind of a crab that lives all by itself. Its very name tells that!"

"You are quite right," the Fairy answered, "and as soon as you know what the Hermit Crabs do you will want to go to some nice quiet place on the shore and watch them. It's lots of fun. I myself have spent hours studying them."

"Tell us about them," Kinkajou eagerly requested.

"Well," answered the Fairy, "a Hermit Crab isn't exactly a real Crab for it doesn't look like the general lot of them, even though it has lots of legs and a very strong 'pincher claw.' To begin with, it is very small, though it has a fierce, fighting nature."

"What in the world can a Crab find to fight about?" asked lazy Lorykins disdainfully.

"Lots of things," laughed the Wishing Fairy; "for a Crab's life is just as full of Crab interests and hopes and worries as any other creature's; and as for the Hermit Crab—there seem to be even more interests, for it has to hunt around and find the empty shell of a dead Whelk or Snail to serve as its home. This done, it backs up to the chosen shell and ever so carefully pushes its long, naked body down into the entrance. In less than no time it hooks its tail (which is ever so strong) around the innermost curves of its adopted home and hangs its arms out of its new front door and looks around at its little world with a very comfortable and safe feeling. Wherever it goes it carries its tiny shell house along with it, and ever so often there are fearful fights to be undertaken with other Hermit Crabs who may like its shell more than their own, and these little Crabs that dart so quickly here and there can fight! They really are very vicious."

APPEALS FOR RUSSIAN CHILDREN

New York, Dec. 22.—Calling upon the American people to translate the moral and spiritual ideals of the Washington Conference into practice, Dr. John H. Finley, chairman of the Commission on International Justice and Good-Will of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, issues an appeal for gifts to the Russion Children's fund.

"Let us render actual service to our fellow men in direst need," he says. His statement is as follows:

"The Commission on International Justice and Good-Will believes that it should do more than seek a "warless world" by the appeal of words. It has therefore set up a Committee on Mercy and Relief; for the churches can best create good-will and brotherhood by revealing these qualities in service.

"The first task comes from Mr. Herbert Hoover, head of the American Relief Administration, who is also a vice-president of the Federal Council of Churches. He tells us that the churches did not fail, when the call came to help the children of Central Europe. Through the years the churches have generously met the repeated calls—for Belgians; for Armenians; for devastated France; for famine sufferers in China. Other calls will come to you this year. This appeal is for Russia.

"God has never given us quite such a task before. This Commission believes that this is the way to help solve the confusing and baffling world problem of Russia—by love and service. Here is an opportunity to translate the moral and spiritual ideals of the Washington Conference into practice. Let us render actual service to our fellow-men in direst need.

"The relief made available by these funds will be distributed under the supervision of a representative of the Federal Council on Mr. Hoover's staff in Russia, through the well-established agencies of the American Relief Administration and the American Friends Service Committee, who are in the closest co-operation.

"Those who cannot fully respond to this appeal at Christmas may note that our service in Russia will have to be, in any case, a task of many months.

"In presenting to the Christian heart of America this urgent and pitiful appeal for Russia, we should not fail to lay upon the conscience of the churches the necessity of also responding to the calls by the various Boards and to the other distinctive calls for generosity, such as those made for the Near East. The appeals of mankind are indeed many. None should be neglected.

"President Harding writes: 'I have given my fullest approval of the action on the part of the American Relief Administration in initiating an effort to mitigate the famine in Russia, particularly to save the lives of the children. I know that the entrance of America into the problem of Russia through the full heart of charity is one that will appeal to the whole American people.'"

Former Governor Carl E. Milliken of Maine is treasurer of the fund, his headquarters being the Federal Council of Churches, 105 East Twenty-second Street, New York City, though funds may be given through the local churches.

WHY WOMEN GET DESPONDENT

Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave and hopeful as men? Yes, certainly; but a woman's organism is essentially different from a man's,—more delicate, more sensitive and more exacting. Women in delicate health are more dependent, more nervous, more irritable and more despondent. When a woman develops nervousness, sleeplessness, backaches, headaches, draggingdown pains and melancholia she should lose no time in giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial, as it will quickly dispel such troubles. This root and herb medicine contains no drugs and has been the standby of American womanhood for nearly fifty years.

Mr. Newriche (at the play)—"'Oo's the author of this piece?"

Miss Newpoore—"Oh, he's remaining incog. at present."

Mr. Newriche—"Ah, couldn't get bail, I suppose!"—The Passing Show (London).

The Chinaman could speak but little English, and the Englishman could speak no Chinese; nevertheless, the dinner went off agreeably.

There was one dish that pleased the Englishman. It was a rich stew of onions, pork, mushrooms, and a dark, tender, well-flavored meat that tasted like duck.

The Englishman ate heartily of this stew. Then he closed his eyes, lifted his hands and shood his head with an air of ecstacy.

After this compliment to the dish, he said interrogatively: "Quack, quack?"

"No, no," said the Chinaman. "Bow-wow."—The Christian-Evangelist St. Louisq.

Mrs. A. Waring, 519 Patrick St., Alexandria, says: "I suffered from my back and inflammation of the bladder. I was in such misery during these attacks that I had to have injections of morphine to relieve the pain. My back ached so badly, I thought it would kill me. Pain in the top and back of my head nearly drove me insane. I often got so dizzy I could hardly keep from falling. Nothing did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Leadbeater's Drug Store The first box gave me great relief. I used several boxes altogether and they stopped the awful pain in my back and head and made my kidneys normal. Since then, I have taken Doan's as soon as I have noticed any signs of kidney disorder and they have never failed to give quick relief."

Lynchburg—Residents of Brooknea1 are in the midst of an intense school controversy, which has resulted in a subscription school being organized with four teachers in opposition to the State High School located there. It is claimed the private school has an enrollment of 100, while the attendance at the public school is only about fifty. The trouble grew out of the dismissal of Principal Tingler of teh high school, one faction of the patrons holding that he was dismissed without warrant because of a conspiracy of the six teachers who worked under him.

Richmond—For meritorious service as the commanding officer of Base Hospital, No. 45, Dr. Stuart McGuire has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the Unted States government. He organized the hospital unit and served as its head with the rank of lieutenant colonel throughout the period of its training in this country and work in the battle areas of France. Dr. McGuire received the decoration with full military ceremonies at Fortress Monroe on Thursday, January 12. The medal was bestowed on him by Major General C. J. Bailey, commanding officer of the Third Corps Area.

Richmond—Delegate W. C. Hoover, of Rockingham, is the biggest lawmaker in Virginia. When he came here a specal chair was made to accommodate him. He was trained down for his duties here, losing near ly fifty pounds, tipping the scales at 365 now. He was at the caucus that named the judges and when he leaned back in his special chair he smashed the arms and the back. It is now in the shop for repairs after being used three days.

Lynchburg——Lynchburg today experienced the first real snowstorm of the winter the snow beginning to fall before daybreak, and this evening it appeared as though it might continue through the night. The snow was of such a character that steep hillside streets saw many automobile bumps during the day. Cars operated without chains came to grief frequently, being unable to negotiate steep grades and going down them like a top, being from under control of the driver. No serious accidents were reported.

Lexington—The Democratic Executive Committee of Rockbridge met today at the courthouse in Lexington and adopted the precinct primary plan for electing delegates to the County convention, to be held in Lexington January 24, at which time delegates will be electd to the district convention in Staunton, February 14 to nominate a candidate for Congress to succeed the late Representative H. D. Flood.

Harrisonburg—Friday, January 13, proved an unlucky day for two cargoes of "corn liquor" which were intercepted in their alleged course from Roanoke to Hagerstown, by city and county officials just south of Harrisonburg Friday morning. Two large cars were halted and searched, and found to contain 230 gallons of alleged moonshine, which would retail at something like $5,000. In addition to the liquor the officers, confiscated the two large automobiles, valued at approximately $3,000.

Winchester—Dr. Howard Moore, who practices medicine in Alaska, has arrived in Jefferson County, W. Va., where he will spend the remainder of the winter with relatives at his old home. Professional engagements prevented him from start ing home before cold weather closed the rivers to boat travel so he had to walk 400 miles to the nearest railroad station, his baggage being carried on dog sleds on the snow. His trip on the snow lasted sixteen days.

Danville—The stronger demand for tobacco here last week brought a sharp jump in the tobacco average for the Danville market. It rose from $12.23 last week to $17.67 per 100 pounds this week. The total number of pounds sold was 812,943, which brought $143,647.40. Fine grades of leaf were proportionately small and deliveries were generally returned by the cold harsh weather.

SATURDAY, JAN. 22, 1814.

Messrs. Editors:

The people of this town, amongst other afflictions, are suffering much loss and inconvenience from the rapacity of a few Hucksters, who are in the habit of monopolizing all the butter brought to town in wagons and thus obliging the citizens to purchase this necessary article from them at exorbitant prices. I wish to enquire whether there is any law of the corporation prohibiting this traffic, and if not, whether the subject does not demand the attention of the Common Council? The same exhortations were practiced some time since in this article upon the citizens of New York, but the evil was soon remedied by the Police authority of that city.

Grade Crossing to Be Eliminated

Washington, D. C. Jan. 17.—The grade crossing must go and they will be eliminated wherever possible on the roads of the Federal Aid Highway System, which will be built as a result of the passage of the Federal Highway Act. When the roads which form the primary or interstate system are constructed, no grade crossing will be allowed to remain that it is at all practical to avoid. Every effor will be made to make the roads of the secondary system equally safe, but in this case it is recognized that eliminaion may not be practicable in all cases at this time.

In making this announcement the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, under whose supervjsion the fund is allotted and construction is undertaken, is putting into effect a policy which it has long advocated in principle, and whose adoption has urged with increasing effectiveness upon State highway officials for some time past. The policy is meeting with hearty cooperation on the part of the States, and the American Association of State Highway Officials by resolution has pledged its best efforts to cooperate grade crossings on new construction.

In addition, the policy finds favor among the railroads, some of the leading carriers already having lent cheerful aid in avoiding the construction of more grade crossings.

Instead of grade crossings there will be constructed, wherever possible, in the future either a bridge or an underpass where roadway and railway intersect. Important roads which now cross and recross railroad lines at grades hereafter will be located entirely on one side of the railroad, even though to do so may increase the cost of construction. State officials, realizing the need of eliminating grade crossings, have stated their desire to cooperate with the department in carrying out this plan.

Where crossings are unavoidable, or where local interests justify construction of highways to cross railroad lines, the road will be so located as to pass over the track or under it. In most instances of this sort the railroads bear one half of the cost of building the bridge or under pass.

The prime object of the department's policy to eliminate grade crossings on Federal aid roads is the saving of human lives. This policy probably will involve increased expense of construction in the case of some roads, but it is believed this is justified by the saving of life. During the three years ending with 1920 according to best records available to the department, 3,636 lives were lost at grade crossings in the United States and 10,644 persons were injured.

$25,000 to William & Mary For Enlarging Its Library

New York, Jan. 17.—A gift of $25,000 to the College of William and Mary in Virginia for enlarging its library has been made by the Carnegie Corporation of New York, it was announced today.

In a letter announcing the gift to the college, Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, acting president of the Carnegie Corporation stated that "it is the hope of the Corporation that its gift may make possible a dignified and attractive addition to your present library."

Announcement of the gift has caused much interest and gratification here among friends of the South's oldest college, who realize the necessity for preserving properly the rare volumes and early colonial records of the institution.

The appropriation, making possible enlarged reading and research facilities for the college, is regarded as another step forward in the widespread movement now under way among friends and alumni of the historic institution to re-establish William and Mary firmly in the very front rank of American colleges a position to which her present, as well as her past achievements, it is considered, entitle her.

The greath growth of William and Mary in the last few years, under the administration of President Chandler, from an institution of about 200 students to a college of 620 students, has made it imperative that the library building be enlarged if the increased enrollment was to be served adequately. The appropriation from the Carnegie Corporation, it is expected, will go far toward meeting the need for library space at this time. In addition to the regular students, approximately 600 students attend the summer term, and for these there must be maintaind a large collection of current books and periodicals on educational subjects.

There are in the library numbers of rare manuscrints, maps, prints, colonial newspapers, books and early records of Virginia history which have great value to historians and all students, as sources. It is understood that room for cataloging and storage of these books, as well as for office purposes will be provided in the addition to be built. The present library building was erected in 1908, with funds contributed by the late Andrew Carnegie. Friends of the college, including George C. Ratchelor and R. Fulton Cutting, of New York City, Joseph Bryan, of Richmond and Thomas Nelson Page, of Hanover county, Virginia, were among those who contributed toward its endowment at that time.

E. G. Swem, former Assistant State Librarian of Virginia, is librarin at William and Mary.

INSECTS

Garbage has little bearing on health except in so far as it affords a breeding place for flies but since its breeds more flies than any other one thing except the manure pile and since flies are very dangerous germ carriers, the prompt and careful disposal of garbage is an important health measure.

Flies, roaches and other scavenging insects carry disease germs on their feet and thus infect any food on which they happen to walk. Typhoid, cholera, dysentary and other diseases have been carried by flies which are always a menace that should not be tolerated. Aside from the danger of disease, moreover the thought of their coming to food directly from the manure piles and privy vaults is disgusting. Houses should be thoroughly screened against flies in the season, and further precautions should be taken to destroy the nuisance at its source.

Since the chief breeding places of flies are garbage cans and manure piles, especial attention should be paid to them. If the garbage can is water tight, closely covered, frequent ly emptied and thoroughly cleaned flies will not develop in it. since about ten days must elapse from the time when the egg is laid until the insect is ready to fly. Fly traps to fit on the garbage can are useful. Manure should be screened and removed frequently, or it can be treated chemically. Where privies are used every effort should be made by screening and in other ways, to keep flies away from them also.

Other diseases carried by insects other than flies are malaria and yellow fever, each of which is carried by a special species of mosquito; typhus fever, carried by lice; and bubonic plague which is carried by rat fleas. Various diseases less common in this country are carried by other insects. All possible precautions should be taken aganist mosquitoes, as even when they are not carrying disease germs their bites may be harmful. These bites sting and are often rubbed, especially by children, until the skin is broken, and various infections may enter through the wounds.

Too much care can not be taken to prevent insects of every kind, rats mice and vermin from getting into houses and if they get in, a constant fght against them should be waged until they are exterminated.

Max Beerbohm in his new book, "And Even Now" seeks to improve on the too perfect "complete letter writer for men and women," and indicates what sort of model letter that type of manual really needs. For instance, a letter to thank an author for an inscribed copy of his book should read as follows:

Dear Mr. Emanuel Flower:

It was kind of you to think of sending me a copy of your new book. It would have been kinder still to think again and abandon that project. I am a man of gentle instincts, and do not like to tell you that "A Flight into Arcady" (of which I have skimmed a few pages, thus wasting two or three minutes of my not altogether worthless time' is trash. On the other hand, I am determined that you shall not be able to go around boasting to your friends if you have anv, that this work was not condemned, derided, and dismissed by your sincere well-wisher, Wrexford Cripps.—New York World

Richmnd, January 16.—The Virginia Tuberculosis Association has received the preliminary reports from the sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals in 53 counties and 12 cities in the State. Most of these reports are only approximated as all of the sub agents have not been heard from in the country districts.

To date is is estimated that the sales in these 53 counties and cities amount to $35 660.41. The sales in these same counties and cities last year amounted to $36,620.07, showing a decrease of $959.66.

It is interesting to note that the counties sold more seals this year than last making a gain of $512.24, while the cities sold fewer seals, showing a decrease of $1,471.90.

Taking Down Four Million Words A Day

WHEN you dictate, you are careful to speak distinctly so that your stenographer will get her notes right.

When you telephone are you just as careful to speak distinctly so that the operator will understand correctly?

Four million times every day telephone numbers are dictated back and forth over the telephone in the territory served by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. It's like taking down so many words of dictation.

Think how much depends upon careful enunciation. Care in giving telephone numbers means better service, just the same as care in giving dictation to your stenographer.
